Cash Crunch

- Day-2 of Bank Strike
- ATMs of Public Sector Banks in city run dry
- Rush at Pvt. Bank ATMs

Mysuru, May 31 (RK&BCT)- Automatic Teller Machine (ATM) services of Public Sector Banks, already facing severe cash crunch, were severely disrupted across the city this morning, the second day of the bank strike. Bank Unions have struck work in protest against what they called "a meagre" 2% wage revision proposed by the Indian Banks Association (IBA).

Apart from ATM services, transactions like cheque clearances, demand drafts, RTGS (Real Time Gross Settlement) and remittances were affected although online banking offered some solace to the customers. For many customers who had adopted digital modes of transactions in the aftermath of the November 2016 demonetisation, the strike meant little inconvenience.

However, it was business as usual at private banks as they were not part of the strike. Heavy rush was witnessed at the private banks where people were anxious to complete their cash and online transactions.

Employees of all the 21 State-run commercial banks, regional rural banks, 13 old generation private banks and six foreign banks are participating in the strike, said representatives of United Forum of Bank Unions (UFBU), an umbrella body of nine Bank Unions that had given the call for the strike.

There are nearly 3,500 bank employees in the district deployed across 525 branches of public sector banks and they participated in the strike.

The effects of the strike that began yesterday morning was not felt till last evening. The first after-effect of the strike was empty ATMs. A majority of the over 500 ATMs that operates within city limits are owned by nationalised banks and as such, the machines were closed due to the strike.

Whatever cash that was loaded to the machines a day before the strike got over by 3 pm yesterday, thanks to panic withdrawals.

Shutters of several ATMs owned by the nationalised banks were down since last evening and anxious people were queuing up before the ATMs attached to private banks.

The strike hit hard small and marginal traders, who still prefer to deal in cash or cheque instruments that need to be deposited, withdrawn or cleared through bank branches.

Bengaluru, May 31 (KMS& BCT)- Just minutes after Congress MLA D.K. Shivakumar's hurried press conference where he alleged that the CBI would soon raid properties belonging to 11 Congress MLAs including himself, the central agency launched raids at 5 locations.

Armed with a search warrant, the CBI raided houses of the MLAs and also of two bank managers one of whom has reportedly said he "converted" money at the behest of D.K. Suresh, Shivakumar's brother.

Sizzling and shivering

Mother Earth and its atmosphere don't seem to interest people at large except on occasions of unusual happenings such as earthquake, unbearable heat, high levels of air pollution, excessive or scanty rains, hurricanes, tornados, forest fires and what have you. Reports appearing in dailies nowadays such as Chandrapur in Maharashtra records a high temperature of 48.6 degrees Celsius and is sizzling or the regions of the country's Northern part are freezing don't seem to generate the feeling of being spared discomfort on the part of Mysureans. To imagine that debates in various circles about the ongoing and impending changes in the make up of both Mother Earth and its atmosphere should interest more than a few in our region is asking for too much. The terms climate and weather have their precise meaning, although they seem to be taken as synonyms in common parlance. Climate is the statistics of weather over extended periods of time, measure or presented as the patterns of variation in atmospheric temperature as well as pressure, humidity, wind speed, particle count in the air and other meteorological variables in a given region. Weather, in a sense, is a matter of feeling the given state of climate.

It is only when weather causes discomfort, people tend to indulge in discussion about its 'why' and 'what.' The subject of climate change, both in specific regions of the planet earth and globally as a whole is being keenly observed and debated by the Inter-governmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC), mostly taking stock of country-wise contributions to the ongoing change without apparently any sign of cracking the problem worsening year after year.

In an action by human populations all over the Earth that is neither amusing nor amazing, they are not only the perpetrators of causing climate change but also complaining about the weather's makeover from salubrious to scorching, such as in most urban spaces, for which Bengaluru serves as an eminent example. The proportion of urbanites in the country's total population is heading towards half-way mark. They are totally focussed on meeting their infrastructure needs which simply means more buildings to house offices, schools, hospitals, hotels, roads resulting in getting rid of green cover both within urban limits and intercity spaces. More residents in the cities, creation of more infrastructure and reduced scope for keeping the urban ambience cool are proceeding like an endless screw.

While the rustics are braving the extremes of weather and engaging themselves in their traditional callings, the urbanites are happily using up resources to protect themselves from the discomfort of extreme weather — air-conditioners in summer months and heaters in winter months. One cannot be faulted to remark that climate and weather in their nightmarish range between sizzling and shivering need to be taken more seriously than at present.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Narendra Modi was voted to power on a platform of accelerating job creation and slashing corruption. He has disappointed on the jobs front. And his political machinations in Karnataka, trying to grab power by hook or crook, now imperil his claim to usher in clean politics. This will dent his image — and votes — in the 2019 general elections. The BJP can argue that the Congress has historically been the greatest culprit in buying defectors and appointing Governors who misuse their powers to favour their appointer. Very true. Yet Modi's charisma depends on his showing how different he is from the old Congress crooks. A few machinations and dirty tricks will not suffice to ruin his image. But the more he replicates Congress' dirty tricks, the less different he will look to voters, with electoral consequences. — Swaminathan S. Anklesaria Aiyar in The Times of India.

Beer with recycled sewage water

Stockholm: In a bid to create awareness about the ability to turn wastewater into safe drinking water, a brewery in Stockholm, Sweden has launched a new beer brand made with recycled sewage water.

Aptly called PU:REST, the new beer crafted by Stockholm's Nya Carnegiebryggeriet (New Carnegie Brewery) in collaboration with the Swedish Environmental Research Institute (IVL) and Carlsberg is supposed to convince people that "second-hand water" can be as clean as normal tap water.

PU:REST reportedly has "a very clean and crisp taste", but judging by the comments left on the New Carnegie Brewery Facebook page, consumers are not that excited about it. But its creators remain hopeful that it will help change the general opinion about recycled wastewater.

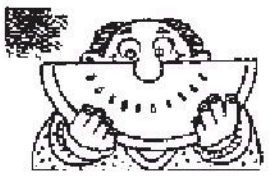
What's good about watermelon?



Watermelon is known as a good source of Lycopene, even better than tomatoes. Seedless watermelon tends to have more Lycopene. Some worry about the sugar content, but watermelon is actually lower in sugar than many other fruits. A cup of diced watermelon contains 9 grams of sugar.

More on Tagore's Gitanjali

Sir,

The prized possession, perhaps, of our Prime Minister Narendra Modi is the replica of the first edition of Rabindranath Tagore's anthology of poems Gitanjali (Song Offerings) published in London during November 1912 along with the original script of the poem in Bengali Chitto Jetha Bhayshunyo hand-written by Tagore which is famously quoted from Gitanjali, "Where the mind is without fear and the head is held high... Into that heaven of freedom, my Father, let my country awake" (poem 35 of 103 poems) presented to him by the Acharya of Visva-Bharati University, Santiniketan, during its 49th Convocation held on May 25.

to when I had bought Gitanjali of 1962 edition, over 55 years ago at the city's News Paper House in Lansdowne building. The photo above is the opening page of the book. I consider this as my prized collection among other books I have.

It is worth mentioning Irish poet W.B.Yeats' 16-page introduction to Gitanjali in September 1912. To quote, he writes: "I have carried the manuscript of these translations about with me for days, reading it in Railway trains, or on the top of omnibus and in restaurants, and I have often had to close it lest some stranger would see how much it moved me."

Again, "...Mr.Tagore, like the Indian civilisation itself, has been content to discover the soul and surrender himself to its spontaneity."

Its popularity can be made out by countless reprints from 1912 to 1962 in several years by Macmillan and Company, London. It will be interesting if readers having the earliest edition come out with their response.

CM promises farm loan waiver in 15 days

Kumaraswamy

Bengaluru, May 31 (KMS& BCT)- Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy and Deputy Chief Minister Dr. G. Parameshwara met farmer group leaders from 30 districts in Bengaluru yesterday and sought their suggestions on a proposal for waiving loans of farmers.

While Kumaraswamy did not announce the waiver of loans of farmers, he revealed that loans of all farmers would be waived and the scheme implemented in two phases in the next fifteen days.

"I am committed to waiving off farm loans," he said without specifying when the scheme will be implemented. However, the CM said that all the modalities of the scheme would be ready within the next 15 days.

Kumaraswamy spoke after speaking to individual farmers at the meeting. They requested a complete waiver of loans, including those taken for occasions like weddings or for buying two wheelers and gold. He assured farmers that individual 'debt-free certificate' will be sent to the houses of farmers whose loans have been cleared. Plans were afoot to waive off farm loans between Apr. 1, 2009 and Dec. 31, 2017.

Kumaraswamy and his deputy made it clear that they would have to examine all claims before taking a decision. Far from his promise to waive Rs. 53,000 crore worth of farm loans within 24 hours of him assuming power as the CM, Kumaraswamy has advanced the delivery of his election manifesto assurances on account of having to consult with his coalition partners the Congress.

"In the next 15 days, Dr. G. Parameshwara and I will meet Rahul Gandhi and also discuss this," he said while adding that he would have to convince the Congress President on the subject as well.

"My door is always open for you. This is a government for the farmers. But do understand it is not easy to waive farm loans in current scenario. I appeal to you to give me breathing time," he said when murmurs of objections threatened to derail the meeting.

He insisted that there was 'no going back' on the promise. "Whatever may be the difficulty, our government is committed to maintaining fiscal discipline, and also saving you (farmers)," Kumaraswamy told the farmers.

"I'm getting it (the loan amount) calculated, whatever thousand crore rupees it is. Saving you is our government's responsibility," he told the gathering. Kumaraswamy also said that he would call a meeting of representatives of nationalised banks in 2-3 days and seek information about farm loans extended by them.

"We will first focus on commercial banks located in non-city corporations. The focus is on regional, rural banks. We will also appoint nodal officers in every district. The nodal officers will receive applications for loan waiver from farmers and cross check them to ensure that money is not misused but is given only to farmers," he said.

Farmer leaders unanimously advocated for a waiver of all farm loans irrespective of the loan and size of land ownership. Kuruburu Shanthakumar, President of Karnataka Sugarcane Growers Association, said "If a Steel Bridge Flyover is to be constructed, the government is ready to sanction Rs. 15,000 crore but they don't think about waiving farm loans."

No bail for Mohammed Nalapad; completes 100 days in jail

Haris Nalapad

Bengaluru, May 31 - Mohammed Haris Nalapad, son of Shanthinagar MLA N.A. Haris, the main accused in the Feb. 17 brawl at Farzi Café in UB city, will continue to be lodged at Parappana Agrahara prison, as his bail plea was rejected again yesterday afternoon.

Special Public Prosecutor Shyam Sundar had pointed out that the assault which left Vidvat with multiple injuries have been proved in the recent chargesheet filed against Nalapad and his associates. He had also pointed out that the Nalapad gang did not even spare the café employees when they tried to intervene.

Nalapad has now been in the Central Prison for 100 days after he was remanded in judicial custody which began two days after his dramatic surrender at Cubbon Park Police Station on Feb. 19.

"The Court had earlier rejected his bail because of the brutality of the crime and it was convinced of strong possibility of the accused tampering with the evidence and the witness statements if allowed to go out on bail," said Shyam Sundar. The bail application came up before 62 Additional City Civil and Sessions Judge B. Parameshwara Prasanna who reserved the order for Wednesday after hearing both sides on Tuesday.

The CCB had submitted chargesheet along with CCTV grabs in which Vidvat was seen being attacked with ice bucket and glass bottles. Shyam Sundar also added that the Court had rejected the bail plea earlier on the basis of the merit of the case and also on the manner in which Nalapad had acted despite being the son of an elected leader. It is expected that Nalapad's legal team would appeal against the order in the HC in coming days.

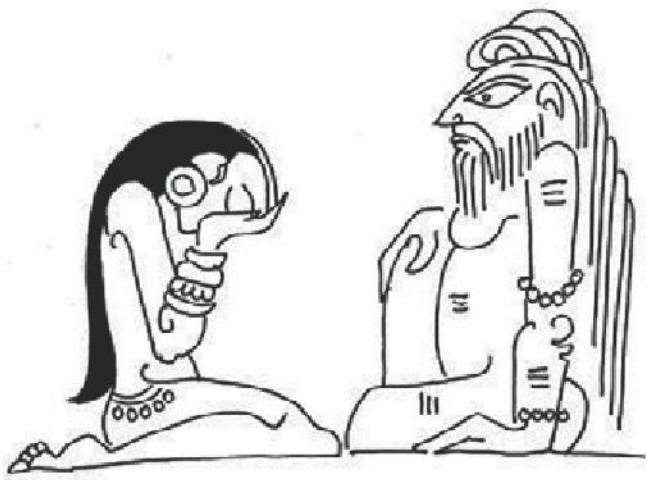
Decoding Mythology

Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Global misogyny



Respect for women stems from empathy. Empathy is natural to humans, but needs to be cultivated by culture or by self-examination. It has nothing to do with religious doctrine or rational thought. Empathy comes from within without, not from without within.

Some feminists expect me to 'explain' Hinduism's misogyny. Typically, a verse from Manusmriti will be thrown at me. For example, verse 2.213: It is the nature of women to seduce men in this world; for that reason the wise are never unguarded in the company of females. Or verse 5.151: Girls are supposed to be in the custody of their father when they are children, women must be under the custody of their husband when married and under the custody of her son as widows. In no circumstances is she allowed to assert herself independently.

My response involves reminding them that this is not unique to Hinduism. Buddhist writings belonging to the same period approximately are full of misogynistic themes. In Vinaya Pitaka (the book of monastic discipline) 3.15-21, there is the tale of Sudinna — a young monk who breaks his vows of celibacy after his old parents beg him to give his wife, whom he had abandoned, a child so that his family lineage may continue. When this is revealed, the Buddha admonishes him thus: It is better for you to have put your manhood in the mouth of a venomous snake or a pit of burning charcoal than a woman.

I then draw their attention to a quote from the Quran that is used to explain the practice of wearing hijab amongst Muslim women. "And say to the believing women that they should lower their gaze and guard their modesty; that they should not display their beauty and ornaments except what must ordinarily appear thereof; that they should draw their veils over their bosoms and not display their beauty except to their husbands, their fathers, their husbands' fathers, their sons, their husbands' sons, their brothers, or their brothers' sons or their sisters' sons, or their women or the servants whom their right hands possess, or male servants free of physical needs, or small children who have no sense of the shame of sex, and that they should not strike their feet in order to draw attention to their hidden ornaments." (Quran 24:31).

Finally, I share quotes from Christianity. This is St. Paul's advice in 1 Timothy 2:12: I do not permit a woman to teach or to have authority over a man, she must be silent. Then there is Ephesians 5:22: Wives, submit to you husbands as to the Lord. My point is to draw attention to the global nature of misogyny. One finds misogyny in some form or the other in every religion, if one is looking for it. One will find respect for women too, in every religion, if one is looking for it. Does that mean those who are anti-religion are respectful of women?

Not true. The 'me too' campaign reveals disrespect for women even amongst atheists, secularists and rationalists. Respect for women stems from empathy. Empathy is natural to humans, but needs to be cultivated by culture or by self-examination. It has nothing to do with religious doctrine or rational thought. Empathy comes from within without, not from without within.

PARTY TIME...

To motivate flunked son !

By N.K.A. Ballal,
Retd. Sr. Vice-President, ITDC

In Sagar district, Madhya Pradesh, a civil contractor, Mr. Vyas, invited his relatives and friends for a grand party. Nothing unusual. But for the reason his son had flunked his 10th board exams and he decided to celebrate the same with a party to motivate him to do better next time. Earlier in the day, the Madhya Pradesh Board of Secondary Education had declared the results for the exams and within hours, at least seven students had committed suicide.

Ballal

Vyas was worried that his son might also think the same way. So he threw a grand party to inform to the world that his son's passing or failing did not matter to him. His reasoning was simple. "I wanted to tell my son that board exams are not the final exams in this world. I do not want my son to go into depression over this. My son can reappear in the exams again next year and with hard work can get better marks." His son instead of sulking was beaming and promised to not only pass his exams but get better marks too !

One of the prime reasons for 'depression' is peer pressure. It is ironical, all parents want their children to score distinction only and an eighty percent pass is considered average! This year in the board exams, how did two students manage to get cent percent, 625 out of 625 ? Full marks in subjects like Maths and Science is understandable but cent percent marks in subjects like English and Kannada too ?

It is a fact that one cannot get admission to top colleges like St. Stephens, Delhi, without good percentage since the cut off marks for top colleges is 99 percent ! Another problem students face is that they have to compete with students coming from other States who are quite liberal in allowing the students to copy — like Bihar or Jharkhand. It is not uncommon to see these students who are dumb, carry with them mark sheets of 90 percent and above. Some rural schools in Karnataka also allow copying to ensure that the pass percentages are good.

Success in life has nothing to do with the marks one obtains in exams. Ironical, but the truth is that back-benchers do very well in life than the first-rankers. The reason is very simple. For the rank holders, everything comes very easy in life — the college of their choice, and if by chance they are good looking, they get the girl friend of their choice too. But for the back-benchers they have to struggle hard throughout their lives but at the end of their careers if they look back they would be miles ahead of the first-rankers.

I was a back-bencher myself, struggling to get fifty percent in my Maths exam but looking back, I have not fared badly in my career or life. I recently met my classmate, who was the first-ranker in our school and was surprised to know that he did not fare as good in his career as we had all presumed.

I have met scores of people, all back-benchers, college dropouts, who have made their mark in their careers through sheer hard work and have succeeded too. Yes, it is important to study well and get good marks but if by chance you fail, it is not the end of the world. That is the point Vyas of Madhya Pradesh was trying to make. His son failed in an exam but instead of making an issue of it as most of the parents would do, he celebrated it and ensured that his son got motivated to do better in his next try at the exams. A lesson for all parents.

Clean cities of India

Well, Mysuru has again missed the bus. The first three positions of the clean city tag has gone to Indore, Bhopal and Chandigarh respectively. Mysuru, which some years back had bagged the cleanest city tag, has got a consolation prize, the cleanest city among the city with the population of three lakh to one million !

What is however alarming is that Mysuru is not even in the list of first five in spite of the fact that the Mysuru City Corporation went into an overdrive when the Central Committee came for inspection. How clean is clean? It is comparative, Mysuru is considered clean in comparison with other cities with similar population.

The on-field survey has been conducted by an independent agency and data for ranking of the cities has been collected from three sources — service level progress, direct observation by random field visits and citizen feedback, which has been given the highest weightage of 35 percent!

Blaming the government for everything has become a habit which I feel is wrong. We the citizens have no role to play in keeping this city clean? Educated and the so-called elite clean their houses and dump the garbage outside their homes and then start blaming the government for the mess !

If every Mysurean starts keeping their homes /office/factory and surroundings clean, half the battle is won and it will not be difficult for Mysuru to get the coveted first spot again. But who will bell the cat ?

The worst affected were traders from APMC Market Bandipalya, grocery traders from Shivarampet, Santhepet, Devaraja Market, Makkaji Chowk and real estate agents as daily cash flow is important for their trade.

"We can't pay wages to loaders and our other employees and the situation will not ease till Saturday and then there is a Sunday. We operate through current account and a two-day strike has crippled our business. Things will be normal only from Monday," said Mahaveer Jain, a grocery trader at APMC Market.

On their part, over 600 bank employees gathered at the Regional Office of State Bank of India at T.K. Layout opposite Krishnadhama and staged a protest this morning.

Justifying the strike, the striking employees said that the wage revision was due on Nov. 1, 2017, but the Indian Banks Association stated that a salary hike was not possible in view of the losses being posted by banks.

Rain gives a break in Kodagu; more showers expected

Madikeri, May 31 (PS&BCT)- After pounding the district hard for over 24 hours, rain gave a respite to Kodagu this morning. Though it was a temporary break, it provided people the much needed relief. For officials, it was time to assess the damage and provide relief.

The District Administration had said that the rain was due to cyclone Mekunu that hit coastal parts of Karnataka on Tuesday. Private water forecaster Skymet has predicted that cyclone Mekunu may hit Kerala in a day or two and in the process, it might bring heavy rain in Kodagu.

Kodagu has received 51.5mm rainfall in the last 24 hours. The District Administration has initiated a 24X7 helpline (08272-221077) to provide assistance to people affected by rain. Tourists in Kodagu are missing the famous musical fountain at Raja Seat, which was damaged by lightning five days ago, and requires another week for repair, officials said.

Rain has intensified in Madikeri and Virajpet taluks and there was a continuous rain from Tuesday night to Wednesday. There was a cloudy atmosphere at most parts of the district, followed by drizzle and sunshine. The rain has kicked-off the transplantation activity across the district.

From January this year to May 30, Kodagu has received 16.67 inches (423.418 mm) rainfall. Madikeri has received 21.19 inches (614.426 mm), Virajpet 12.29 inches (312.166 mm) and Somwarpet has received 13.53 inches (343.662 mm) rainfall.

Due to heavy rain, there is no electricity in most parts of the district and even towns where there are power stations, there is no power. Many residents of Madikeri complained of house wall collapse and trees falling on houses and on electric poles. House collapse incidents have been reported from Subramanyanagar, Putaninagar, near Kodava Samaja, Madikeri.

Taluk Panchayat Member Sabitha Channakeshava, Gram Panchayat Member Gopalakrishna and the Village Accountant (VA) visited the spot.

At Aruvathokkalu near Gonikoppal, a huge tree fell on a house. The house and a scooter that was parked outside the house have been badly damaged. Fortunately no one was present inside the house when the tree fell.

The connection between Birunani and Hudikeri has been cut and even the temporary bridge that has been constructed at Hysodlur village is under water.

WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY 2018: THEME - "BEAT PLASTIC POLLUTION"

Urgent need to protect environment, ban plastic usage: Mysuru DC

Mysuru, May 31 (RKB&NNN)- There is an urgent need to create awareness among people to protect environment in the current situation and ban usage of plastic. Hence, the officials of various Departments should chalk out programmes in the month of June, said Deputy Commissioner (DC) Abhiram G. Sankar.

He was chairing a preliminary meeting yesterday at his office and giving directions to different Departments to come out with innovative programmes to highlight the importance of environment protection in view of the World Environment Day.

India is the global host of 2018 World Environment Day which will take place on June 5. With "Beat Plastic Pollution" as the theme for this year's edition, the world is coming together to combat single-use plastic pollution.

A jatha should be organised in schools and colleges to highlight the harmful effects of usage of plastics and importance of environment protection. Essay and painting competitions must be organised for students and prizes given, he said.

Focus should be on creating awareness about the ban of plastic on forest fringes and the Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Department must take up this work. The cleanliness drive must be conducted in the eight major temples identified by the Muzrai Department, the DC said.

Wherever the villages are located on the banks of the rivers in the District, awareness must be created among the villagers to prevent the river from becoming polluted and the local populace and voluntary organisations in cities must take up this responsibility, he pointed out.

Since rainy season has started there is fear of outbreak of epidemics like Malaria, Dengue and other communicable diseases and the cleanliness programme must begin from the hospitals itself by maintaining hygiene in the premises, he said.

The District Administration in association with Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB), Regional Office and other local organisations has organised a cleanliness drive of Kapila river and cycling event has been organised on June 5, he added.

Deputy Conservator of Forest (DCF) Dr. Hanumanthappa, MCC Commissioner K.H. Jagadeesh, ZP Deputy Secretary Shivakumaraswamy, Karnataka State Pollution Control Board officials B.M. Prakash, M. G. Parents and trainers of these swimmers must be appreciated for their patience in providing timely training to these participants and making this big event happen, he added.

Man held for stealing tusks from dead tusker

Hanur, May 31 (MTY&KS)- The officials of Male Mahadeshwara Wildlife Division have arrested a person yesterday for stealing tusks from a tusker, which had died after its leg was lodged between the rocks when it had come to quench its thirst. The accused had hidden the tusks in his house.

The accused has been identified as 53-year-old Sannaputta, son of Giriponda and a resident of Solekobe village near Ramapura.

The incident: About two days ago, a tusker, aged about 15 years, had come to the water-hole at Soleragudda forest area to drink water during which one of its legs got stuck in between the rocks.

Unable to remove its leg, the tusker which grew weak, had died there with its leg still stuck between the rocks. This incident had not come to the notice of the Forest Department.

Yesterday morning, Sannaputta had entered the forest illegally to procure seege soppu and saw the tusker dead. He then chopped the tusks and took it to his home to sell them and make some money.

But at about 1 pm on the same day, the Forest staff, who were on their regular beat, saw the dead tusker and upon going near it, they saw the tusks missing and informed their higher officials.

DCF V. Yedukondalu, RFO Sundar and staff, who rushed to the spot, conducted an inspection and following a tip off, they raided the house of Sannaputta and seized the tusks besides registering a case against him.

It is learnt that Sannaputta has cases registered against him pertaining to illegal storage of arms and ammunition and illegal entry into forests among other cases.

Chain snatch bid: Youth thrashed

Mysuru, May 31 (RK&KS)- A youth, who made a futile bid to snatch a gold chain from a woman who was walking near K.R. Hospital on Tuesday morning, was caught by the public and beaten black and blue.

The youth, who attempted to snatch the gold chain, has been identified as Chandra alias Chandrahasa, a resident of Channarayapatna taluk in Hassan.

On Tuesday at about 9.30 am, the woman from Dodda Vokkalageri, was walking on the footpath near K.R. Hospital to go to the hospital for treatment when the youth attempted to snatch her gold chain. But the woman, who held on to her chain, screamed for help, which attracted the public, who caught hold of the youth and thrashed him.

Mandi Police, who rushed to the spot, took custody of the youth, brought him to the Police Station and interrogated him to know his background and whether he was involved in similar cases earlier.

Gauri Lankesh murder: SIT files first chargesheet

Four more arrested for plotting to assassinate Mysuru Professor also Bengaluru, May 31 - The Special Investigation Team (SIT) formed by the Karnataka Police to investigate the murder of journalist-activist Gauri Lankesh is close to solving the case. Four more persons linked to the radical right-wing outfit Sanathan Sanstha and its sister outfit Hindu Janajagruti Samiti (HJS) have been arrested and charged with conspiracy to kill rationalist-writer Prof. K.S. Bhagawan in Mysuru.

The arrested are Amol Kale alias Bhaisaab (39), an activist of the HJS from Maharashtra, Amit Degwekar alias Pradeep (39), a Sanathan Sanstha activist and resident of Goa, Manohar Yavade (28), a resident of Vijayapura in Karnataka, and Sujeet Kumar alias Praveen (37), a HJS and Sanathan Sanstha activist from Mangaluru.

The accused are also associated with K.T. Naveen Kumar (37), an activist of the Hindu Yuva Sena, who attended several meetings of the HJS and Sanathan Sanstha in 2017, and was arrested in March 2018 from Mandya in the Gauri murder case.

Gauri Lankesh

Prof. Bhagawan

Journalist Gauri Lankesh, editor of the weekly Lankesh Patrike magazine, was shot dead by unidentified men at her residence in Bengaluru on Sept. 5.

The SIT chargesheet, running over 650 pages, has stated that Gauri Lankesh was gunned down after her assailants found her to be against a specific religious community and their ideology. However, no outfit has been named in the document for being responsible for her murder.

The chargesheet with statement from 134 witnesses was submitted before the III Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Court in Bengaluru yesterday. The SIT has stated that it was yet to recover the firearm used in the killing. Naveen Kumar has been booked for murder, criminal conspiracy, concealment of evidence and under Arms Act.

Naveen was named as an accused in the Gauri murder case after he was taken into custody on the basis of findings in the plot to kill Bhagawan. After helping to execute the Gauri killing, Naveen was allegedly roped-in by his handlers to facilitate the killing of Bhagawan around December 2017, Police sources said.

Naveen Kumar reportedly told investigators that he received instructions to kill Gauri and Bhagawan from a Mangaluru-based man he could identify only as Praveen. The investigation agencies have now identified HJS activist Sujeet Kumar as Praveen.

The chargesheet alleges that Naveen procured the bullets that were used to kill Gauri and also allegedly provided local logistical support to the shooters and guided them to her house and office in Bengaluru.

Call intercept recordings of Naveen speaking to his associates on the case, a statement by his friend Anil Kumar from Maddur on Naveen boasting about his involvement, his role in procurement of bullets are some of the irrefutable evidence against him, the sources said.

Budding filmmaker drowns during photoshoot

Mangaluru, May 31- A budding film director Santosh Shetty Kateel (36) met a watery grave at Ermayi Falls in Ujire, Belthangady taluk yesterday. Santosh, who was wearing a special designed costume, died after he accidentally slipped into Falls while he and his team had gone there for a photoshoot. He had won laurels for his children movie– 'Kanasu - Kannu Teredaga.'

According to Police, he along with four others had planned for a photoshoot for his upcoming children Kannada movie. As per plans, the group reached Ujire on Tuesday evening. On Wednesday morning, they left for shoot at Ermayi Falls, which was swollen due to incessant rains. They reached the spot around 8.30 am.

Later, the crew started work on their photoshoot where Shetty was supposed to wear a special costume made of metal to look like robot. The photo-shoot plot was such that it was taken standing on flowing water at falls. During which, it is alleged that he slipped with his heavy costume and drowned.

The body was later fished out with the help of Fire and Emergency Services.

Shetty had obtained his animation degree and worked in local TV channels as animator before getting into film-making.

Police said that they have booked case under IPC Section 304A (Causing death by negligence) against four persons who accompanied him to the Falls without obtaining necessary permission. Case is registered at Belthangady Police Station and investigation is on.
